

CLIMBING

CARTOONS

Lillian Gish

F.304

HOW TO KEEP FROM GETTING OLD

ANOTHER
FIVE THOUSAND FEET AND WE'LL BE AT THE TOP-

© 1935, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Great Britain rights reserved.

"Hey! How did you get over there?"

"This book doesn't seem to deal with the descent."

—PUNCH

OFF SIDE!

By Jo Metzer

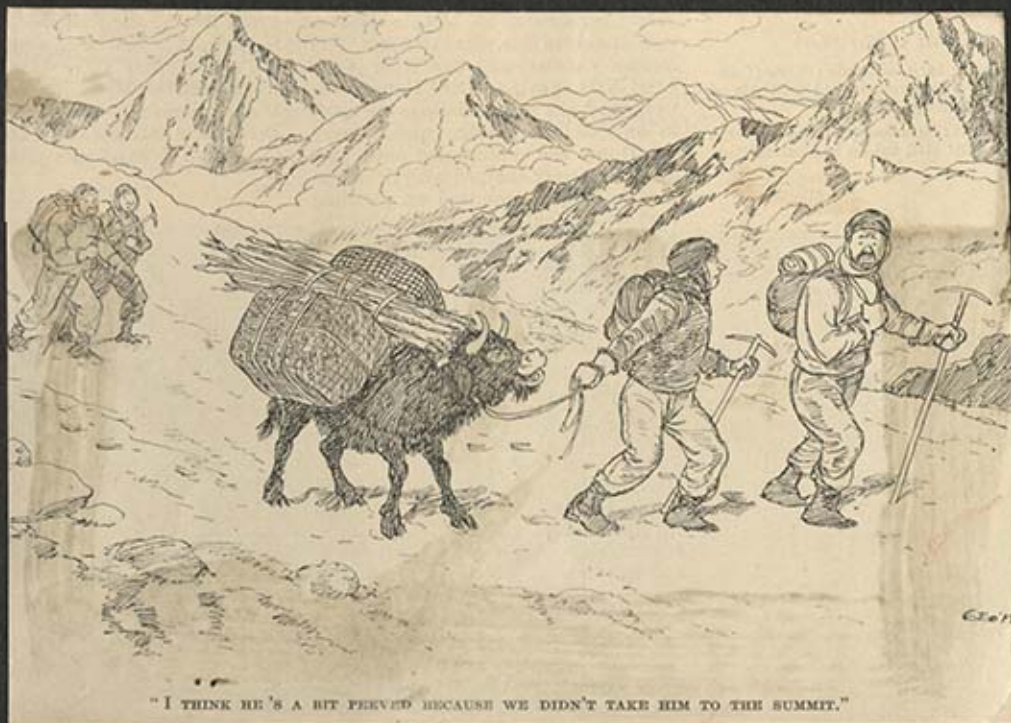

"It's a little trick I picked up in India!"

Below, a flock of Rocky Mountain sheep appear in the playful or desperate jumps they occasionally undertake, to the amazement of hunters in the high ranges. This the artist entitles "The Spirit of the Rocks."

"I THINK HE'S A BIT PEEVED BECAUSE WE DIDN'T TAKE HIM TO THE SUMMIT."

"What do you mean mine are upside down?"

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

C. K. COXER

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

"He's an excellent guide."

With one of these - I could climb
"Snow patch" HSLK

Margee

OFF-SIDE!

By Jo Metzger

McNaught Syndicate, Inc. © 1937

"ONE of us is up the wrong peak!"

Offside

By Jo Metzger

© McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

"Think hard, man! Can't you offer one little suggestion!"

BEST LAUGHS OF 1945

Copy. 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

REA

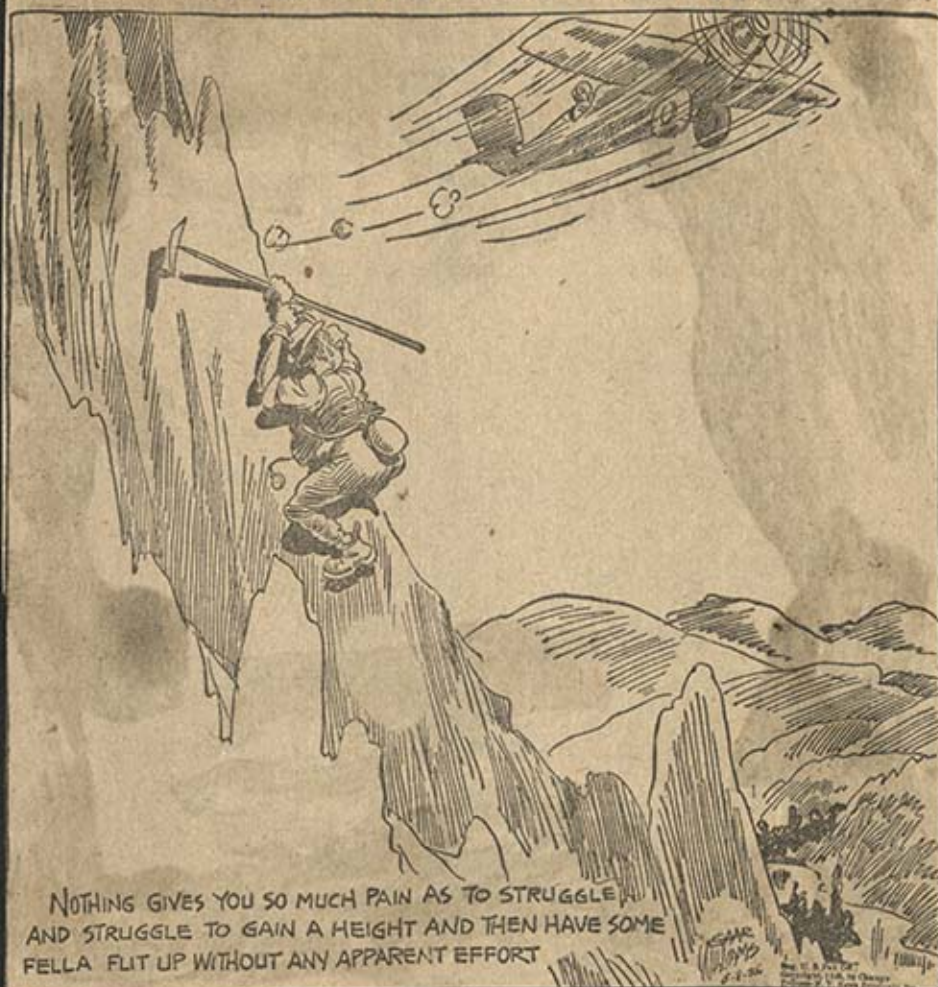

11-24

"Sure, my past life's flashing before my eyes—and is it a pip!"

"I wish you'd stop worrying, Abercrombie, you're always crossing bridges before you come to them."

WOTTA LIFE! WOTTA LIFE!

NOTHING GIVES YOU SO MUCH PAIN AS TO STRUGGLE
AND STRUGGLE TO GAIN A HEIGHT AND THEN HAVE SOME FELLA FLIT UP WITHOUT ANY APPARENT EFFORT

WITTE
1942

Phil Witte
Copyright 1942, by Chicago
Editorial Art, Inc.

"No, dear, it's Santa Claus there is none of. There have always been reindeer."

"At first we didn't take it seriously."

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

"WHAT I LIKE ABOUT THIS IS THERE'S NO DANGER FROM THESE BEASTLY MOTORS."

ALL IN A LIFETIME—By Frank Beck

Wives

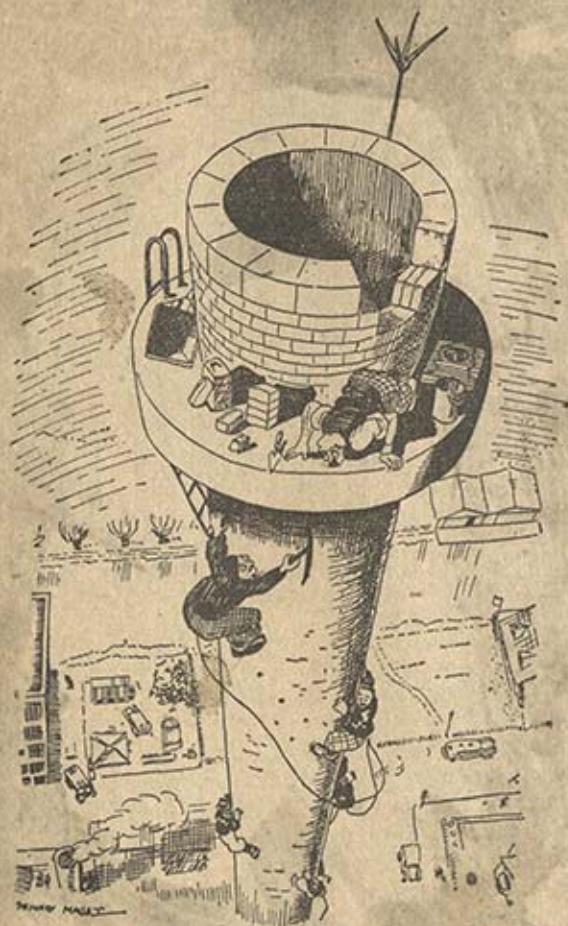

EMILY AND MABEL

By Angelo

'And you'll get the other half when we get down!'

KEEPING IN PRACTICE

"Exc, wot the —?"

"It's O. K., old lad. We're the local Alpine Society. Can't get away this year."

London Passing House

DONALD DUCK

Gus (the With Disney Enterprises)
27-2 World rights reserved

Punch, March 13, 1935.

Pleasure-Cruiser. "DEAR! DEAR! I SUPPOSE I SHALL BE LAST ON BOARD AGAIN!"

By Walt Disney

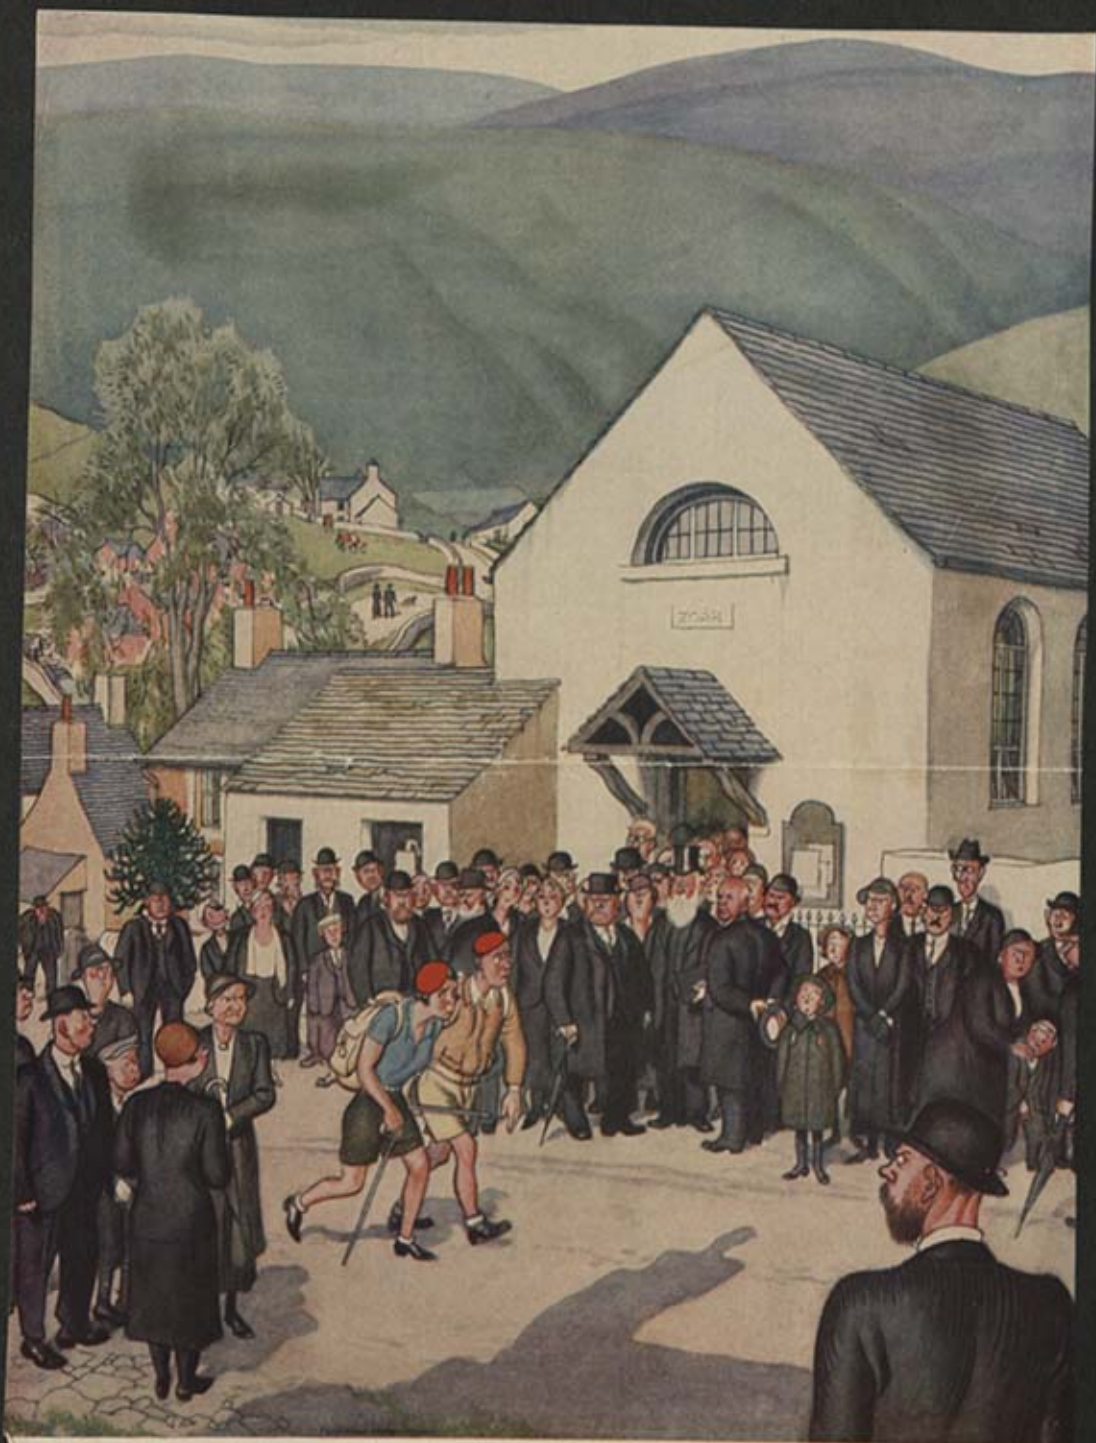

"Let him alone. He may know more about it than you do."

Flashes of Wit From Overseas

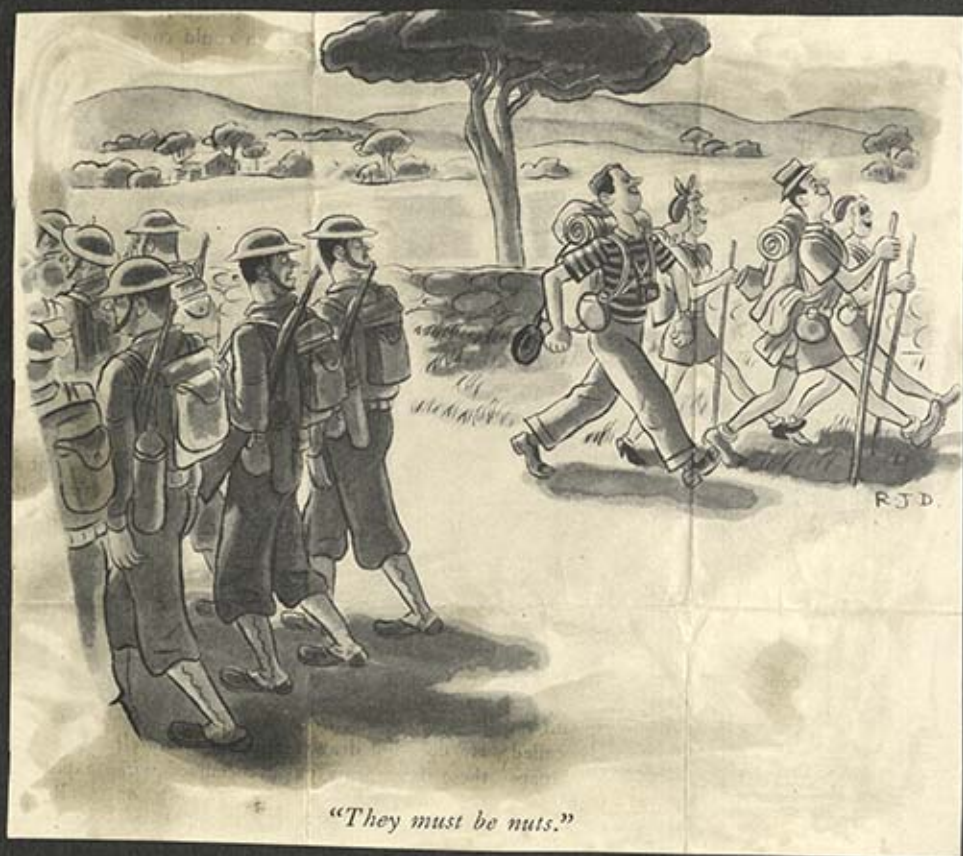

"Pardon my sitting like this, won't you? I'm grateful for the lift, but I bet 'em at the office I'd hike a whole week without setting foot in a car."

—London Opinion

SUNDAY AT LLANCULGWN

"They must be nuts."

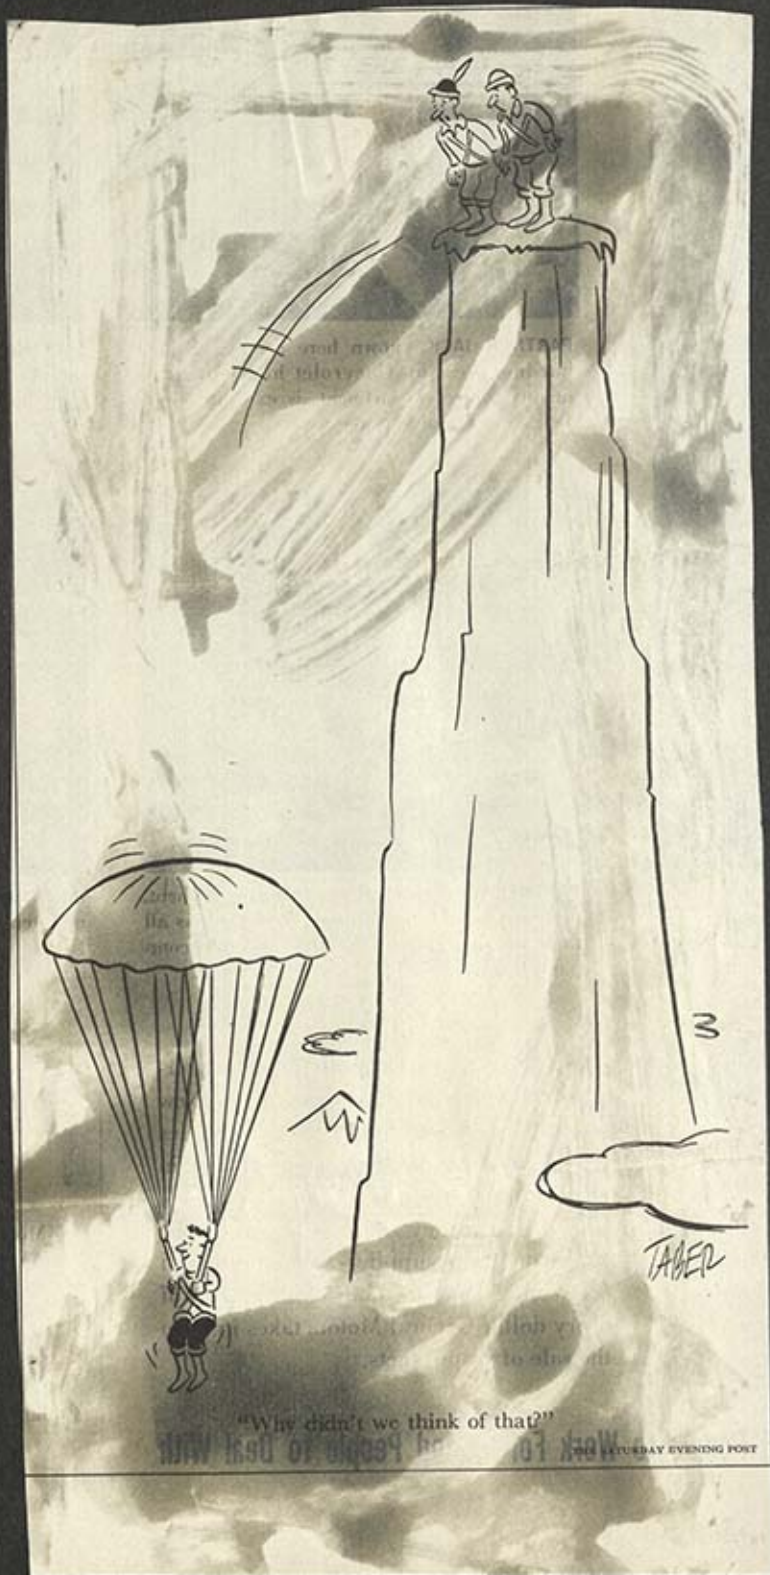

"THAT ROTTEN OLD MAP'S NO GOOD. WHY ON EARTH DON'T YOU ASK SOMEBODY?"

TIME OUT

BY CHET SMITH

To the hiking club headquarters, James!

JASPER

By Simpkins

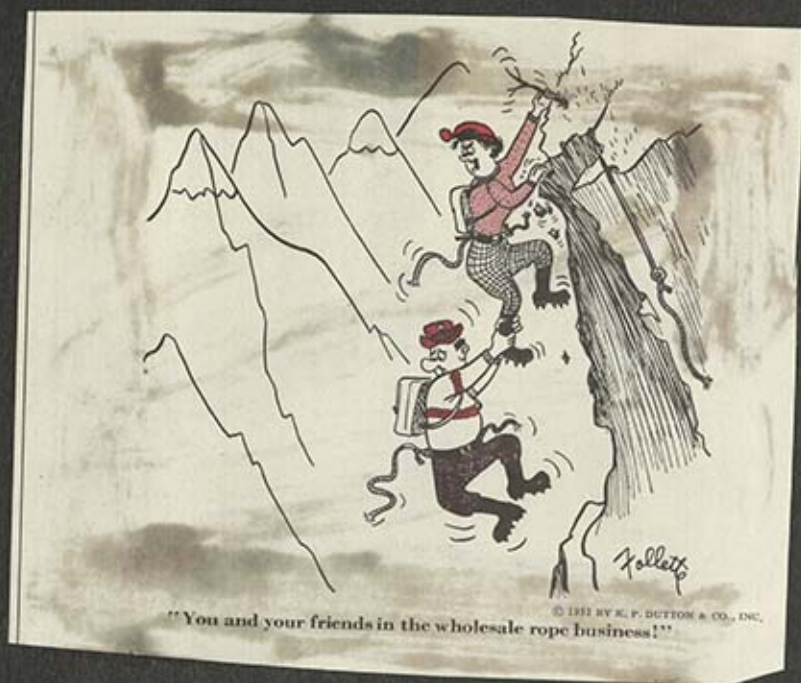

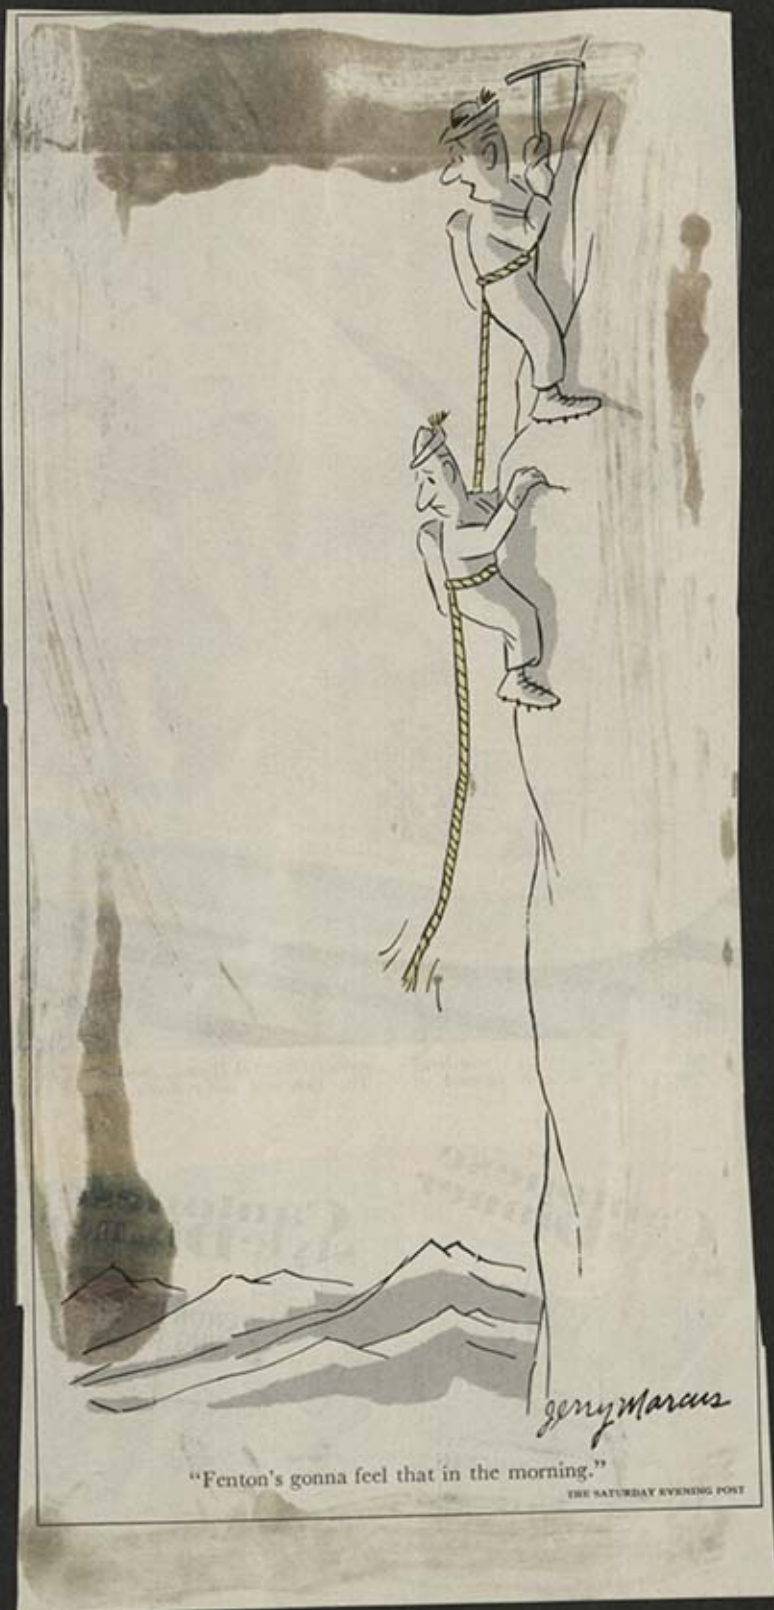

"Quit worrying. I used him as a guide last year. He's terrific."

MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE, SEPTEMBER 28, 1957

"I understand some of these birds are quite good to eat."

"Fenton's gonna feel that in the morning."

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

"Great scott, no! I thought you were the guide."

BUT

Today's Laugh

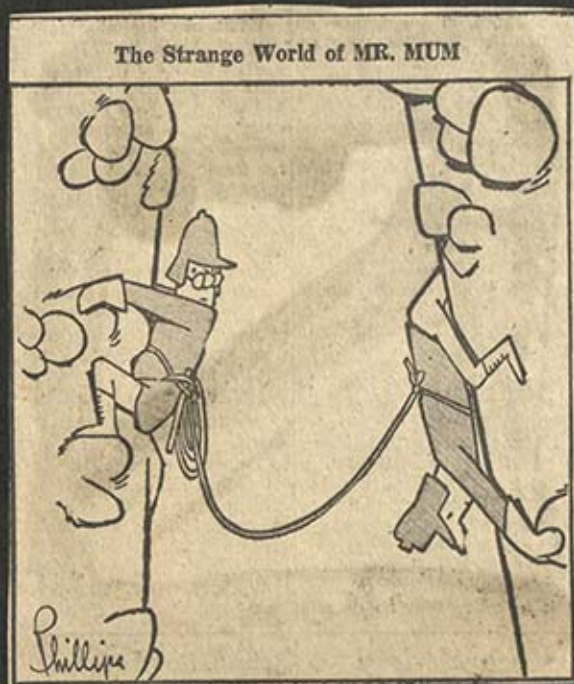

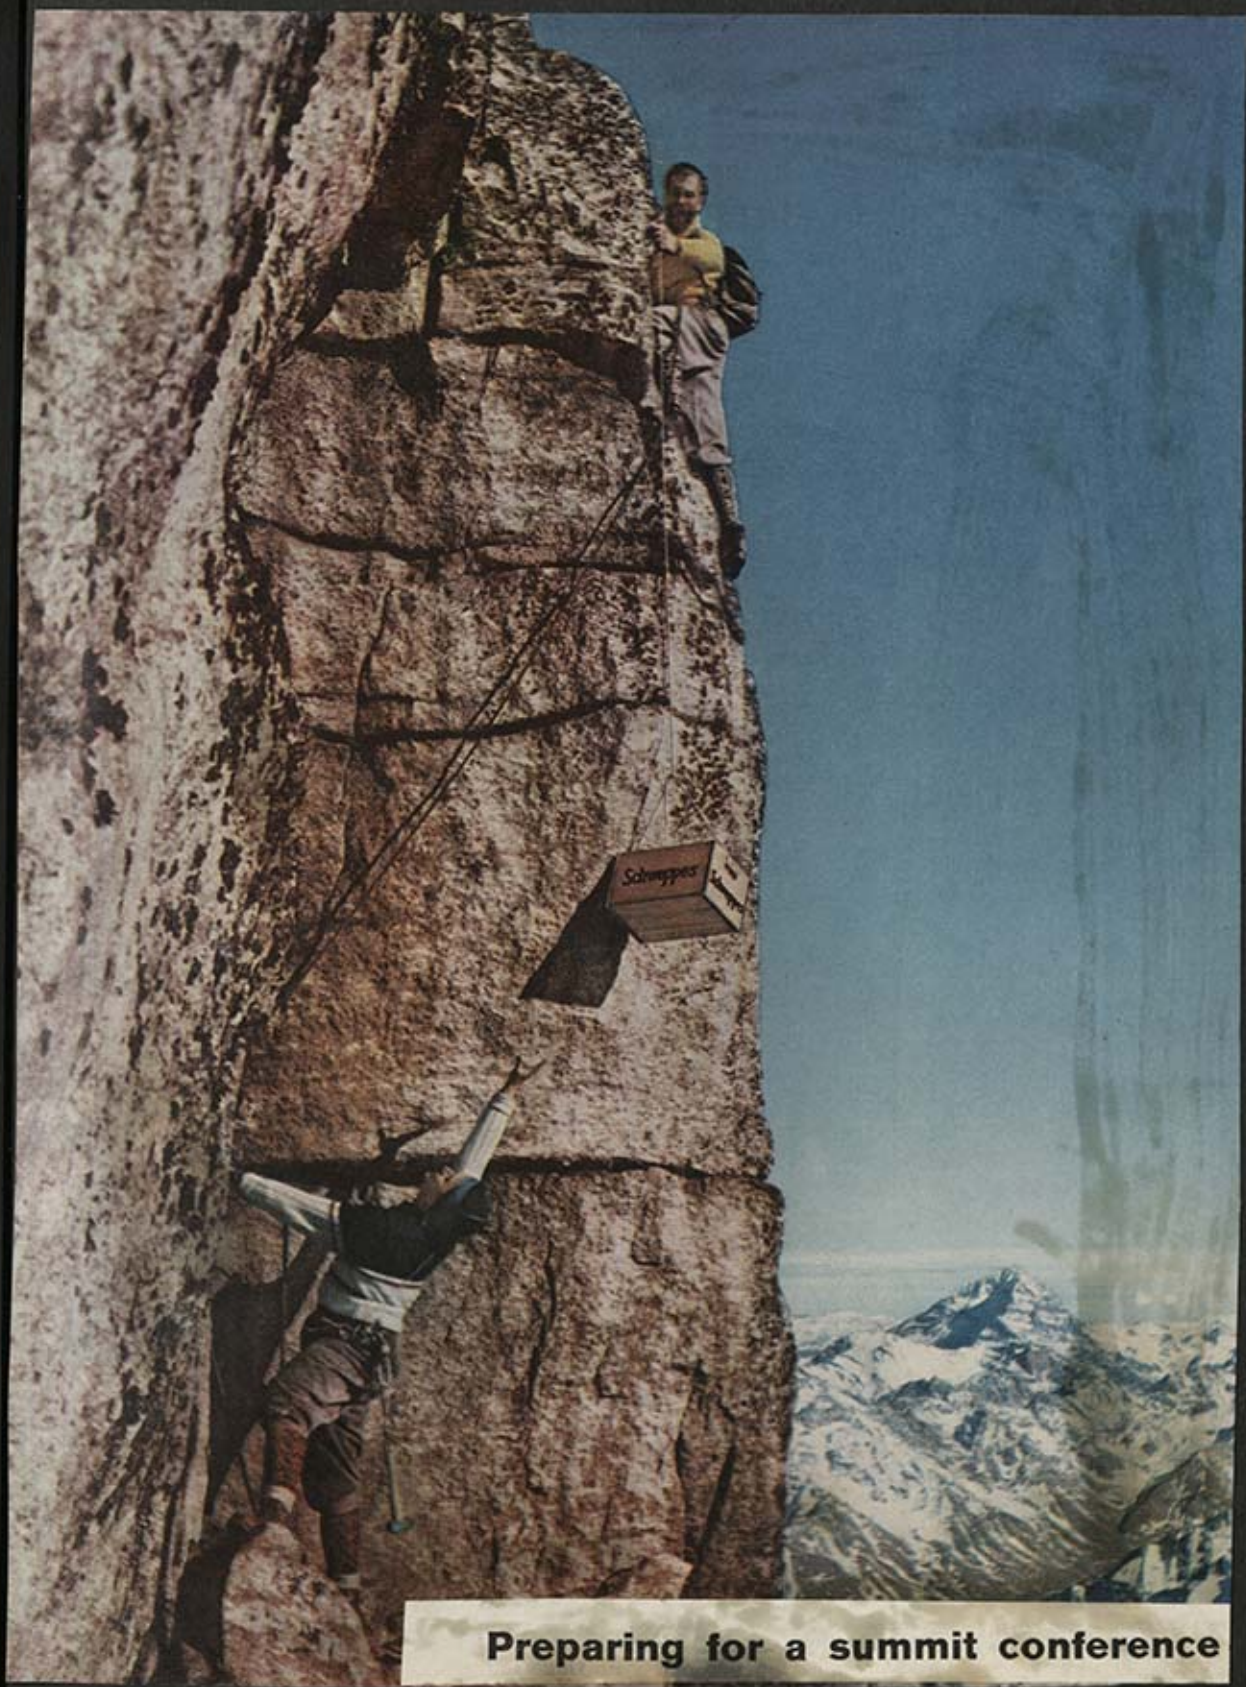

"I liked it better on the wide screen!"

BUT

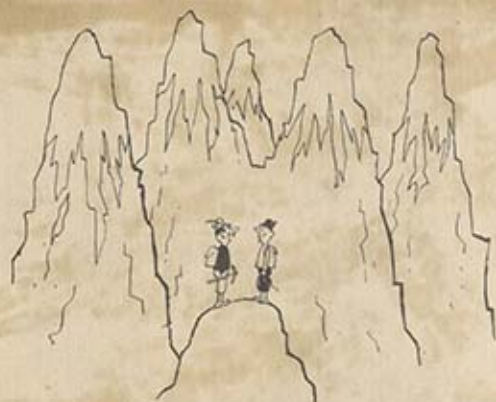

"Is that all it means to you, Smythely? Scrambled eggs for the whole expedition?"

Preparing for a summit conference

We're the first ones to set foot on this peak . . .
Nobody else ever bothered."

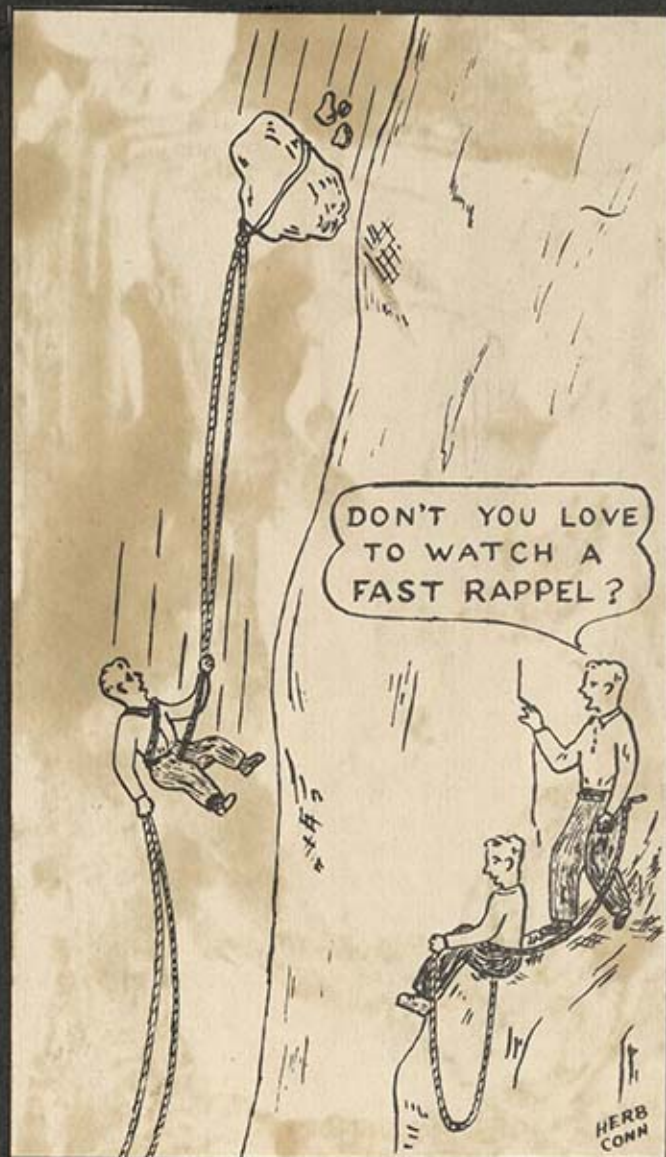

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

BUT

"I THINK HE'S FOUND AN EASIER ROUTE."

Mac

January, 1958 Summit 15

FERD'NAND

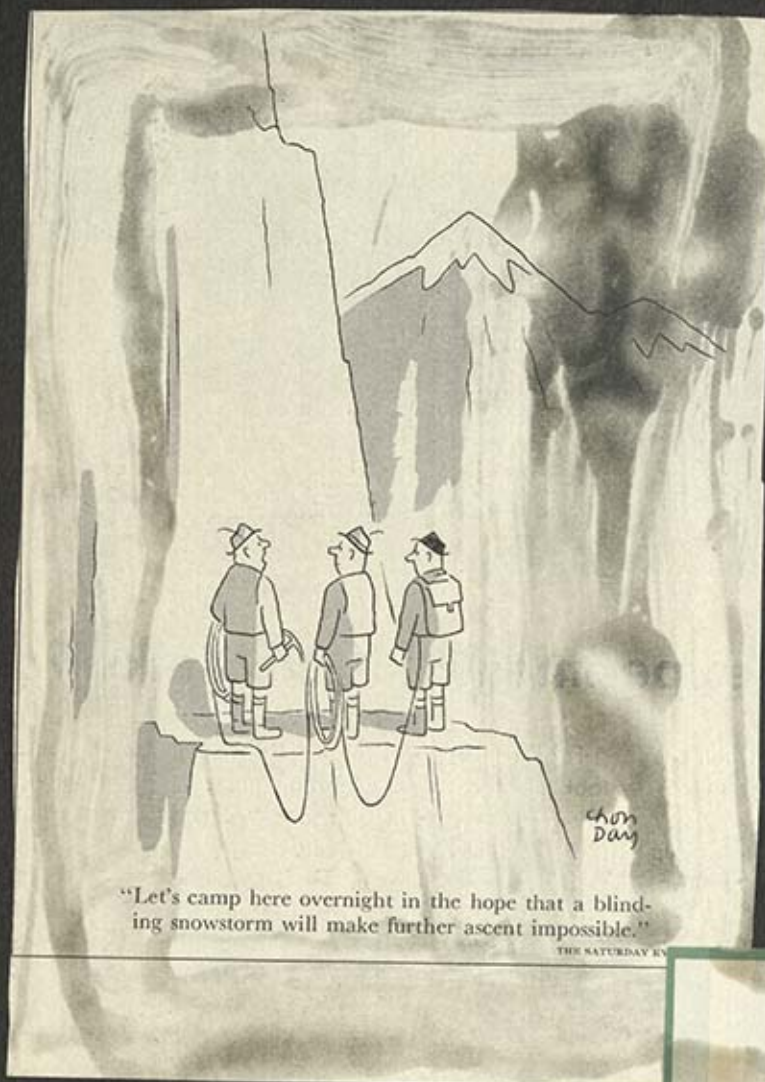

BUT

"For heaven's sake! Edelweiss!"

Crawford

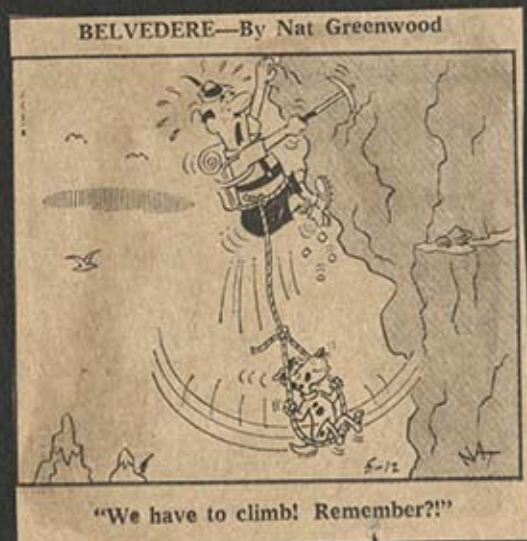

"Let's camp here overnight in the hope that a blinding snowstorm will make further ascent impossible."

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

"Yeah, it's handy, but I still say the old challenge is gone."

Two Americans? 180 Million of 'Em!

BUT

2

"At least I'm glad we did the book before we left."

Inquirer Dec 17-1913

Catfish

Heathcliff

"Just think, we'll be the first ones to ever make it to the top of this mountain!"

"The meaning of life? Gee, fella, I don't know. Your guess is as good as mine."

THE PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER, MO

Queenie

"You mean you brought me all the way up here to yodel?"

Big George

"Princess, would you please explain to your brood that I'm not the north slope of the Matterhorn!"

EST. HORN 1848
9073
MADE IN U.S.A.

